Stephen Dunn: Then & Now, A Retrospective

Noyes Gallery at Seaview Resort

Distinguished Professor Emeritus of Creative Writing and winner of the 2001 Pulitzer Prize for Different Hours, Stephen Dunn (1939-2021) is the Winter Getaway's long-term special guest.

For twenty years, Stephen shared his knowledge and love of poetry at the Getaway. He held his students to the same standard that he used when composing his own poems, urging them not to settle for the obvious, but to work harder to discover the hidden truths beneath it.

This exhibit, originally titled "Poems: A Retrospective," debuted in March 2010. The panels highlight Stephen's revision process, focusing on work from Here and Now (Norton, 2011), and the displays document his personal and writing correspondence over several decades.

Special thanks to the Hofstra University's Special Collection for opening their collection of Stephen Dunn's manuscripts for research and display.

Former Stockton University students Nick Leonetti, Christian Ochse, and Desiree Wallen researched the collection of manuscripts under the supervision of Professor Lisa Honaker. Wall graphics were designed by Professor Michael McGarvey and illustration major Asuka Nakamura.
